3.2- Innovation Ecosystem (10)

3.2.1 (QIM) Institution has created an ecosystem for innovations including incubation centre and other initiatives for creation and transfer of knowledge.

As Smt K B Abad homoeopathic medical college is well established Homoeopathic medical institute imparting every possible and all requisite for upcoming medical graduates and practitioner for future. Moreover we also try to provide conducive environment to the students for research. We at KBAHMC are trying to instill all the required possible norms for establishing better Ecosystem for helping the upcoming Doctors to pursue the research/practice for concreting medical science to build the strong healthy nation.

The graduates, while undergoing the internship are posed to the various clinical departments. For example-UG students are posted to the sub-district hospital where varieties of patients are visiting for consultation. Similarly we do post the UG students to different nearby villages through peripheral Homoeopathic visit to gain maximum knowledge in rural practice which may enhance/update the information and lead the students to more advance treatment for the complaints faced by villagers.

The PG students are also being exposed to the research-oriented activities like the journal reviews, seminar presentations, and self-directed studies in the post-graduate departments of our institute.

We have also established the incubation center (Hospital) in our institute premises for encouraging research by the students of different levels i.e. UG and PG. this center is facilitated with computer aided laboratory with latest internet and information equipments. The incubation center is having the collection of thesis till date for references for upcoming research aspirants. We do have ethical committee constituted to provide required help in research activities carried by the students with appropriate guidance from time to time.

Further we are also having facility for accessing any technical help like drug analysis, drug testing etc with the help of SSDJ Pharmacy College in, through MoU.
