

7.2 Best Practices

Best practices-1

1. Title of the Practice:

Institutional Social Responsibility (ISR) & Impact on society.

2. Objectives:

- To plan for implementing social ethics and values among Students, their parents and staff members of Institute.
- To ensure effective implementation of social values in society for creating social environment and habits to care human values.
- To empower society through social awareness programme.
- To ensure the safety, health and welfare of society through various awareness programmes.
- To treat fairly all persons regardless of such factors as race, caste, religion, state, gender or National origin.
- To strive to protect and maintain clean, healthy and safe environment, sustainable development of Society.
- To address Social Responsibility in a comprehensive way, not only through the relationship with the stakeholders, but also looking at the role of Social Responsibility in research and teaching.

3. The context:

- Social Responsibility has its origin in the activity of the community and is a relevant issue in different types of organization. For institutions of Higher Health Education, awareness of social, economical and ecological aspects of their contacts with students, parents, suppliers and society in general is important.
- They have to be aware of their stakeholders and the impact that their activities may have on their stakeholders and on society in general.
- In the medical institutions, more attention is given for Social Responsibility & health awareness. Students contribute in different activities with enthusiasm and dedication.
- Awareness and service in health is main objective of the Institution.

4. Evidence of Success:

Through Hospital, Student Welfare & NSS unit these activities were mainly carried out.
